Dance Of Hope' Will Benefit Stricken Teen

Published: March 15, 2008

The family of Jared Weissman, a Canyon Hills Junior High student recently diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma, will be the beneficiary of the fourth annual Dance of Hope, to be held April 10 and 11 at Chino Hills High. Jared is 13 years old.

Dance teams from Chino Hills High, Townsend Junior High and Cal State Fullerton will perform, along with dancers from Dellos Dance & Performing Arts Studios, The Talent Factory and All That Dance Performing Arts Center.

"Dance of Hope is all about our hope for health, love and faith as kids in a community come together to express themselves on stage for a special recipient," said Ruthe Rosen, president of The Let It Be Foundation, whose daughter Karla Asch-Rosen was the first beneficiary of the benefit performance.

Show times will be 6:30 p.m. on both days at the high school's theater. Concessions will be available for purchase beginning at 5:30 p.m. Chino Hills High is located at 16150 Pomona Rincon Road (off Soquel Canyon Road, west of the 71 Freeway).

Advance tickets of $7 per person may be purchased from the Chino Hills High School dance team, Dellos Dance and Performing Arts Studios, 14830 Central Ave., Chino; The Talent Factory, 13613 12th St., Chino; All That Dance Performing Arts Center, 2549 Chino Hills Parkway, Chino Hills; and The Let It Be Foundation office, 13905 Ramona Ave., unit J, Chino. Tickets at the door will be $8.
